Plans Completed For Local Mission

Preaching Sessions Open October 2; Leaders Are Invited

The Preaching Mission Committee of the Kingston Ministerial Association recently completed plans for the third annual Protestant preaching mission to be held in the fall. The preaching mission this year will be held on five successive Sunday evenings in different churches in the city, beginning on World Wide Communion Sunday, October 2, and concluding October 30. Some of the outstanding religious leaders in America have been invited to speak at the services.

October 2—The Rev. Dr. Henry Pitney Van Dusen, president of Union Theological Seminary in New York City will speak at the St. James Methodist Church.

October 9—The Rev. Dr. Joseph R. Sizoo, president of the New Brunswick Theological Seminary will speak at the Trinity Lutheran Church.

October 16—The Rev. Dr. Roland H. Hinnton, professor of history at Yale University will speak at the Fair Street Reformed Church.

October 23—The Rev. Dr. Halford Lucecock, author and professor at Yale School of Theology will speak at the Rondout Presbyterian Church.

October 30—The Rev. Dr. Lloyd Foster Ellis, minister of the First Presbyterian Church of Newark, N. J., will preach at the First Reformed Church.

Special music will be planned again this year for each of the services of the preaching mission. The Rev. Mr. Johnson, minister of the St. James Methodist Church, is serving as chairman of the preaching mission.

Offers Strategy

Mrs. F.D.R. Proposes Two Points in Fight With Reds

Atlantic City, N. J., June 29 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will have a two-point strategy for the fight between democracy and communism:

1. An immediate program to keep the United States strong economically.
  2. A program for keeping the country strong militarily, but avoiding misuse of that strength.
- Mrs. Roosevelt, who is chairman of the United Nations Commission on Human Rights, also says "we have a long range program of making ourselves so successful as a democracy, that we can demonstrate that a democracy can give the people in their own hands the power to meet material and moral needs."
- Mrs. Roosevelt spoke last night at the annual convention of the American National Red Cross.

One-Man Power Is Dangerous

Washington, June 29 (AP)—Herbert Hoover said today it would be "dangerous to the country" to create a chairman for the joint chiefs of staff of the armed services as proposed by the Truman administration.

Such an office, the former president declared, would "place too much power in any military officer."

Hoover testified before the House Armed Services Committee on legislation to amend the armed services unification law of 1947. Generally, the measure is aimed to give more power to the secretary of defense and iron out "bugs" in the two-year-old law.

Backers have contended the proposed revision will permit savings of many millions of dollars. The Senate passed the legislation May 26.

Hoover endorsed the general purposes of the bill but strongly opposed a section which would create a chairman for the joint chiefs of staff.

Each of the armed services is represented on the joint chiefs by its chief of staff. Under the present arrangement, each is equal in theory and they try to reach their decisions by mutual agreement.

The proposal to create a chairman was advanced by the late Secretary of Defense Forrestal and has the specific endorsement of President Truman. Under the plan, the chairman would act as chief military advisor to the President and the secretary of defense.

Said Hoover: "I believe Secretary Forrestal's death was largely a result of his attempts to secure coordination (of the services) by persuasion. He didn't have the authority to actually impose coordination."

Hoover said a chairman for the joint chiefs should act only as a peacemaker and without the authority proposed in the legislation.

"With such rank and power, his voice to the country can override the responsible civil officials," Hoover said. "My belief is that this provision is not only unworkable but dangerous to the country."

Coplon Case to Jury

Washington, June 29 (AP)—The Judith Coplon espionage case went to a federal jury at 9:55 a. m. (EST) today. The jury retired to decide the fate of the former Justice Department worker after listening to instructions by Federal Judge Albert L. Reeves on points of law. The judge spoke for 25 minutes, repeatedly stressing that the defendant's intent was a major point for the jury's consideration. Before the judge began speaking, Defense Attorney Archibald Palmer demanded that he declare a mistrial.

Palmer's move was based in part on the closing argument of Prosecutor John M. Kelley, Jr., who described Miss Coplon as a clever spy in Russia's behalf.

Report Unfounded

Sheriff George Smith today stated that information credited to his office to the effect that Robert L. London, 20, of Elmira, had previously escaped from the Wallkill Medium Security Prison, was given out by an unauthorized person. The office had no information of any prior attempt to escape by London and Sheriff Smith called attention to the custom under which prisoners who do escape are treated. They are not returned to the prison but are returned to a close confinement prison and an escape charge is lodged following grand jury action. The report that London had previously escaped from Wallkill prison, Sheriff Smith said was unfounded.

Pecora Rejects Plea

New York, June 29 (AP)—A renewed plea that the "lonely hearts" murder case jury visit the Valley Stream, N. Y., house where Mrs. Janet Fay allegedly was killed was rejected today by Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand Pecora. The court, however, told Defense Attorney Herbert E. Rosenberg that he might engage a surveyor to make charts and take photographs of the two-family house where the state charges Mrs. Fay, 66, Albany, N. Y., widow, was slain last Jan. 4. Raymond Fernandez, 34, and his 200-pound friend, Mrs. Martha Beck, 29, are on trial on a first-degree murder indictment in Mrs. Fay's death.

Criticizes British Press

London, June 29 (AP)—A royal commission criticized the British press today for partisanship, distortion of news and failure to give a clear picture of world affairs. It recommended setting up a general council of the press to foster—but not force—integrity and responsibility to the public.

Planes Raid Shanghai

Shanghai, June 29 (AP)—Low flying Nationalist bombers blasted the crowded Chapel district of Shanghai today, killing at least two persons and injuring upwards of 100. Police and rescue workers dug the injured out of blasted buildings hours after the planes completed their mission.

26 Applicants Ask Police Examination

Twenty-six applications have been received, to date, for an examination to fill a vacancy on the local police department, Russell Howard, secretary of the Civil Service Board said today.

All those who qualify for the examination will be notified prior to July 11, the date on which the examination is scheduled. A later notice will be given in the event a change in the date of examination becomes necessary.

Bronx Boy Found Near Whitfield; No Use for Rural Life

Larry Ribosh, 4, Spent Night on Own; 100 Joined Search for Him

An all-night search for Larry Ribosh, four-year-old Bronx boy, who ran away from the Charles McGuffey camp at Whitfield yesterday afternoon, ended at 6:45 o'clock this morning when Clifton Schoonmaker spotted the lad from a plane and at the same time Peter McGuffey, son of the camp proprietor, spotted the child while beating the brush about three quarters of a mile from the camp.

Ribosh arrived at the camp on Sunday but apparently did not care for country life. He told companions he was leaving the place.

Monday afternoon he was last seen around 3 or 4 o'clock about the barn on the premises. He then went to the camp building, took his purse containing a few cents and departed for parts unknown.

Mr. and Mrs. McGuffey and camp employees began a search for the lad but when he had not been located a call was sent to Sheriff George Smith at 7:30 last evening and a large force of searchers converged on the area.

The boy was found near the Roseland place in an open field. When spotted the boy "took off" and attempted to get away, one of the searchers said. He later told the men that he had seen the sheriff's aides searching Monday evening but had hidden in the brush until they passed.

The search called one of the largest groups of officers and citizens which has been assembled in the county in many years. Sheriff Smith said more than 100 persons participated in the search last evening and until 2 o'clock this morning when the hunt was called off until daylight.

Members of the Accord volunteer fire company joined in the search together with many residents of the area, two troops of Boy Scouts from Accord and Kerhonkson and Sheriff Smith was assisted by County Investigator Clayton W. Vredenburg, Lepusky Arthur Brown, Irving Gilman and DeWitt Bailey. Troopers from Lake Katrine, Wurtsboro and Ferndale under Lieut. Law-

Coykendall Home Bids Are Rejected

The Freeman has been reliably informed that the executor of the Edward Coykendall estate has rejected all bids for the 15-room home of the late Edward Coykendall at 136 West Chestnut street. At the auction held Saturday afternoon, Kingston Lodge 970, Loyal Order of Moose, was the highest bidder with an offer of $21,500. Under the terms of the auction sale, Harry H. Fleming, executor of the estate, could reject any or all bids within five days of the auction.

Bronx Man Killed In Goshen Crash

Goshen, N. Y., June 29 (AP)—A Bronx man was killed and two persons were injured early today when two trucks collided on Route 17 two miles south of here.

State police identified the dead man as Hyman Goodman, 35, (839 Hunts Point avenue), operator of one of the trucks, and the injured as Benjamin Friedman, 35, and Yetta Friedman, 30; no address given.

The Friedmans were taken to Goshen Hospital where the man was treated for face lacerations and the woman for a lacerated scalp and a possible skull fracture. They were passengers in Goodman's truck.

Chester Kurdyla, 20, of New Hampton, N. Y., driver of the second truck, was uninjured, police said.

Americans Are Requested To Help Eastern Christians

In a letter going out from his Kingston office to a large number of supporters in this country, Dr. Konstantin Jaroshevich, president and founder of the Union of Churches of Christ, urges the American people to adopt a positive outlook in attempting to strengthen Christianity in Eastern Europe.

"Everything humanly possible has been used to build friendship and Christian Democracy (in Eastern Europe), but progress is only misunderstanding and antagonism. Now, why not use the Bible—the Word of God—which speaks forcefully to men of all races. The Bible will surely give us Spiritual Victory, establish friendly relations and cooperation and strengthen the Peace of the World," the letter states.

"The Union of Churches of Christ has a great privilege and opportunity to publish and distribute Bibles in the lands where the

Senate Asked to Kill Labor Bill; T.-H. Law To Stay Until 1950

US Income To Hit Low

Washington, June 29 (AP)—The government's income, dragged down by the 1948 income tax cut and the recent economic downturn, will hit a five-year low for the 12-month period ending tomorrow.

When returns are in for the 1949 fiscal year, revenue receipts will fall about a billion dollars—or a little more—below the $39,580,000,000 forecast by the administration last January, government experts said today.

Not since fiscal 1944 has the government's income dropped below $40,000,000,000, and not since the war ended has an administration revenue estimate been thrown short of the mark by a dip in the nation's economy.

A drop in collection of personal income taxes, resulting from the tax cut voted in the spring of 1948, was the chief cause of the government's income decline.

Another factor was worker layoffs in the recently weakened labor market, reflected in decreasing receipts from withholding taxes.

While returns were not yet in for the final week of the fiscal year, it appeared withholding receipts would fall about five per cent under administration estimates, accounting for $500,000,000—about half the difference between the estimated income and actual income.

Compared with fiscal 1948, when higher tax rates were in effect most of the year, current withholding rates appeared to be off about $1,500,000,000.

Against this, the excise or sales taxes collected by the federal government were running slightly above last year—the difference is about $50,000,000—and only moderately—about $160,000,000—below the January estimate.

Corporation income taxes were rolling in at a record peacetime rate—but only because corporations are paying tax on income for boomtime 1948 instead of for the current year, as individuals are.

The excise tax collections follow the general business trend, surpassing the previous year in each month until the November-December period of 1948. The government apparently stands to collect some $8,350,000,000 from excise taxes this year.

Wagner Successor Stirs Speculation; Dewey to Appoint

Albany Sources Declare Race to Be Between Hanley and Lehman in November

New York, June 29 (AP)—Tired and ailing Robert F. Wagner, friend of labor and a fighting champion of Franklin Roosevelt's New Deal, has given up the U. S. Senate seat he held for nearly 23 years.

The 72-year-old Democrat resigned yesterday.

"My turn has come to step down," said the author of the Wagner Labor Relations Law and many other New Deal measures. Wagner said the "battle for human rights is never ended," and that he had confidence a "new generation will exercise power for the common good."

His only regret: "I cannot remain in the front line."

Wagner's resignation paved the way for Republican Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to appoint an interim successor to serve until the November elections. Then, the people will choose a senator to complete Wagner's fourth term which expires January 3, 1951.

Dewey was expected to make an appointment shortly. The appointee presumably will be the G.O.P. candidate in the fall election against the Democratic candidate, who is expected to be former Gov. Herbert H. Lehman.

While Dewey has been rumored interested in the Senate, possibly as a springboard to another chance at the White House, speculation over the former presidential nominee's political future has centered more recently, however, on a third term as governor.

Speculation around the State Capitol in Albany today leaned toward a Senate race in November between Lt. Gov. Joe R. Hanley and Lehman.

Hanley, 73, and Lehman, 71, long have been big vote-getters for the Republican and Democratic parties.

The state committees will nominate the Senate candidates, probably in September.

Informed political sources believe the Democratic Senate nomination is Lehman's for the asking.

Among them are:

Lost to Ives in '48
He ran for the Senate in 1946 but lost to Republican Irving M. Ives by 251,000 votes. Lehman, however, ran some 400,000 votes ahead of James M. Mead, Democratic nominee for governor who was swamped by Governor Dewey.

Hanley is one of nearly a dozen Republican possibilities.

Among them are:

Czech Reds Censor Bishops' Sermons

Stepping Down

Sen. Robert F. Wagner, New York Democrat, has submitted his resignation. "My time has come to step down," the ailing, 72-year-old author of the Wagner Labor Relations Act said. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey will appoint a successor, who will serve until the November election.

These reports apparently were inspired by the fact that the archbishop did not attend a seminary service this morning for the consecration of new priests.

This service is often conducted by the archbishop, but a consecration bishop also can officiate.

The source said Msgr. Beran did not intend to go to this service. He added that "nothing was changed" at the archbishop's palace where Beran has been under police surveillance for the past two weeks. A friend who has seen him, says he is in good health, but virtually isolated.

Police-backed censorship was imposed last Sunday on Dr. Moric Picha, 80-year-old bishop of Hradec Kralove, in northeastern Bohemia.

A churchman who attended the service said the aged bishop told his congregation he had thrown away his prepared sermon rather than deliver it with changes dictated by officials of the Communist education ministry.

Cards Are Mailed

Backing Housing

Ex-Fourth Ward Supervisor Says Idea Carries Out Various Requests

Residents of the Fourth Ward in favor of the housing project in the uptown section have an opportunity of expressing their sentiments through post cards returnable to their alderman.

The cards were mailed to all registered voters by a former supervisor, who said he believed most people in the ward favored more housing for Kingston, and deemed it proper that they should have a chance to go on record.

The cards are intended to be returned immediately in order to be at the city hall for the meeting of the Common Council on Tuesday, July 5.

"It only takes a minute to sign the cards," said Joe Kelly of 256 Hasbrouck avenue, the ex-supervisor "and this saves busy folks a lot of time. They can get behind the housing project without attending any meetings."

Kelly said he was prompted to mail out the cards after hearing many Fourth Ward residents speak in favor of more homes to relieve the local housing shortage, help veterans and others with families living under crowded conditions, and to promote work and business.

The cards he mailed out are returnable to Alderman John E. Buboltz in care of the city clerk's office at the city hall. On them is space for the name and address of those favoring the 12th Ward Housing Project.

Kelly said the idea was his own, that he hadn't discussed it with Alderman Buboltz, and that he paid for the cards and mailing charges himself. He added that he had them addressed in care of the city clerk, because that's where all housing mail goes.

"I hope they all are signed and

Act Foreshadows Restriction on Services in Churches

Prague, June 29 (AP)—Czechoslovakian Communist rulers have begun censoring the sermons of Roman Catholic bishops and imposing a gag on those who attempt to criticize the government, church sources said today.

The action apparently foreshadowed a campaign of restriction against services inside Catholic churches. Those services thus far in the church-state fight have been relatively free although often under surveillance.

Rumors persisted in Prague that Archbishop Josef Beran had been arrested, but an informed source denied it.

This service apparently were inspired by the fact that the archbishop did not attend a seminary service this morning for the consecration of new priests.

This service is often conducted by the archbishop, but a consecration bishop also can officiate.

The source said Msgr. Beran did not intend to go to this service. He added that "nothing was changed" at the archbishop's palace where Beran has been under police surveillance for the past two weeks. A friend who has seen him, says he is in good health, but virtually isolated.

Police-backed censorship was imposed last Sunday on Dr. Moric Picha, 80-year-old bishop of Hradec Kralove, in northeastern Bohemia.

A churchman who attended the service said the aged bishop told his congregation he had thrown away his prepared sermon rather than deliver it with changes dictated by officials of the Communist education ministry.

He said he hoped the Senate would go ahead and vote on other proposals by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and then defeat the bill.

Taft put through the "national emergency" injunctions feature by a 50-40 vote yesterday.

Thirty-two other Republicans and 17 Democrats—14 from the south—joined Taft in voting for his injunction-seizure plan. Thirty-five Democrats voted against it, but Taft lost only five Republicans—Senators Capehart (Ind.), Ives (N.Y.), Langer (N.D.), Morse (Ore.) and Thyne (Minn.).

Predicts Victory

The Ohio Republican predicted a similar victory for the rest of his program, which is designed to keep the "essentials" of the Taft-Hartley Act while making a number of changes in that law.

For the moment at least, his opponents inside and outside Congress weren't disputing the prediction.

Arthur Goldberg, general counsel of the C.I.O., said in an interview: "We might as well face the fact that we have the Taft-Hartley Act after the 1950 elections." He said if Taft's ideas are approved by the Senate and

A.F.L. President Green Says Clause Makes Measure Absolutely Unacceptable

Taft Wins 50-40

C.I.O. Officials Declare Labor Must Sit Tight Until Next Election

Washington, June 29 (AP)—The A.F.L. asked today that the Senate kill the administration's labor bill, now amended to embrace the Taft-Hartley law's injunction powers.

A.F.L. President William Green wrote Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, that the action of the Senate in adding "national emergency" injunction authority to that bill makes it "absolutely unacceptable."

C.I.O. officials, stunned by yesterday's Senate action, already had resigned themselves to keeping the Taft-Hartley Act for two more years.

Arthur Goldberg, C.I.O. general counsel, told a reporter "we might as well face the fact that we have the Taft-Hartley Act until after the 1950 elections."

Green said a meeting of A.F.L. union representatives this morning unanimously approved a move by Lucas to bring a speedy end to the Senate labor debate.

"We feel that amendments designed to make the Taft bill more palatable would be useless and a waste of time," Green wrote Lucas.

He said he hoped the Senate would go ahead and vote on other proposals by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and then defeat the bill.

Taft put through the "national emergency" injunctions feature by a 50-40 vote yesterday.

Pfeiffer Calls on Democrats to Stop Promising Benefits

Niagara Falls, N. Y., June 29 (AP)—Rep. William L. Pfeiffer, Republican state chairman, called on the state Democratic party today to cause "its practice of promising something-to-everyone-for-nothing."

Pfeiffer, in an address prepared for the annual luncheon of the Federation of Women's Republican Clubs, praised Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's administration as an "honest government which has unceasingly served only the best interests of all of the people of our state."

The G.O.P. leader said Democratic Chairman Paul E. Fitzpatrick, "through the wisdom of his ghost writers, has seen fit to attack the integrity of this administration of ours."

"He has snidely attempted to cast a shadow of doubt on the honesty and decency of our Republican state officials and administrators," Pfeiffer said.

Tydings Bill Gives Secretary of Defense Unprecedented Power in Dominating All Branches of Service

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, June 29—Careful reading of the Tydings bill, which passed the Senate and now is before the House Armed Services Committee, will confirm the fact that it not only concentrates in the hands of a single cabinet officer—the secretary of defense—powers that should be exercised jointly by the President as commander-in-chief directly, but it vests unprecedented influence in the secretary of defense. The bill does give the secretary of defense the power to change missions and roles which were outlined in the Defense Act of 1947. The phrase "except as otherwise assigned" appears frequently in the measure. Likewise, Secretary Johnson himself, in testifying before the House Armed Services Committee, inadvertently revealed that a single military officer would have the power of suggestion of influence enabling him in effect to override what the joint chiefs of staff may recommend.

The Senate bill says there shall be a fourth member of the joint chiefs of staff and that he shall act as chairman, who shall have no vote. The bill shall be "in effect thereof." This implies he will not act as umpire, but the joker is that he will not formally vote during the proceedings of the

Hurt When Dog Spills Motorbike

A motorbike accident and a collision involving a taxi and truck were reported to the police Tuesday.

George Norton, 22, and his wife, Joan, 22, of 161 Hasbrouck avenue, were injured slightly when the motorbike on which they were riding was upset by a dog on Meadow street near Chambers street yesterday afternoon. The report at 1:40 p. m. said that the cycle was headed west on Meadow street, near the intersection, when one of three dogs there, run after it causing a mishap in which Mr. and Mrs. Norton were thrown to the pavement. Norton suffered an injured right arm and was X-rayed at Kingston Hospital, and his wife suffered a slight cut on the left ankle and was jolted, the report said. The front of the bicycle was damaged.

A report of the collision at the Rondout creek bridge at 7:40 p. m. said that a tractor-trailer, owned by the Montreal-New York Express Inc., operated by Philip Labbe, of Montreal, Canada, was headed south on Abel street, and a cab of Perry's Taxi Service Inc., 598 Broadway, driven by Frank J. Cosenza, 38 Henry street, was turning into Abel street from the bridge, when they collided.

The taxi was damaged considerably and a log light on the truck was damaged, the report said. No injuries were reported. Officers Louis Sapp, Jr. and Clarence Stickles investigated.

Lawyer Is Threatened

New York, June 29 (AP)—The defense in the Communist conspiracy trial said yesterday that one of its lawyers, Richard Gladstein, was threatened with death if he did not quit the case. The defense said in a statement that the San Francisco lawyer's wife had received the threats from a man who made two telephone calls early Monday morning.

Senate Asked . . .

House, the bill "would have to be vetoed."

A veto, if upheld by Congress, would leave the present law intact.

An A.F.L. spokesman said only that the Senate's action "is a setback but not a defeat in our long-run drive to get the Taft-Hartley Act repealed." He was not optimistic over action this year, however.

Not Too Bright

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader of the Senate, told a reporter the outlook "doesn't look too bright" in view of what happened yesterday.

He meant the 50-to-40 vote in favor of the Taft plan to delay critical strikes by Taft-Hartley style injunctions or government seizure of plants, or both.

Lucas today was seeking to dispose of the labor debate quickly. Overnight he tried to get unanimous Senate agreement to vote by 2 p. m. tomorrow on the "Taft substitute" for the entire administration labor bill except the national emergency provision.

The loudest objection to an early vote came from Senator Lyles (R.-N. Y.). He told the Senate he had a dozen amendments to the Taft substitute.

And today he told a reporter he has "only just begun" his efforts to get a better labor bill.

Substitute Features

The Taft substitute would preserve such Taft-Hartley features as those:

The ban on closed shop contracts that require all employees to be union members; the independence of the Federal Mediation Service; the provision that employers don't have to bargain with their foremen; the ban on mass picketing; and the use of temporary injunctions in unfair labor practice cases.

On the other hand, Taft would abandon such Taft-Hartley provisions as:

The independent "general counsel" of the National Labor Relations Board with sole authority to prosecute cases; the provision that now says men on strike can't vote in plant elections; and the blanket prohibition against all secondary boycotts (union efforts to exert pressure on one company by forcing other companies to quit doing business with it).

Skeletons of flying reptiles with a wing spread of 25 feet have been found in the chalk beds of western Kansas.

Youth Speaker

REV. J. DEBRINE

The Rev. John D. DeBrine, director of the Rochester Youth for Christ, will be a guest preacher at the Stone Ridge Methodist Church Thursday at 8 p. m. The public is invited.

A graduate of both the Bob Jones University Academy and Houghton College, the Rev. Mr. DeBrine was a former director of the Houghton College Gospel Messengers. He plans to work toward M.R.E. and B.D. degrees in the fall at the Asbury Theological Seminary at Wilmore, Ky.

He is director of the two Youth for Christ branches, "Singing Faith" and "Singing Along." He also is a tenor of course, "Current Events in the Light of Bible Prophecy" conducted in the Rochester area.

The Rev. Mr. DeBrine has been selected for membership in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." He also is a member of the Houghton College Honor Society and a member of the Board of Youth for Christ International and Canadian Youth for Christ.

of goods, the income derived from selling to be used for religious and relief purposes.

He emphasized the adoption of a positive outlook. Distribution of Bibles, he said, must be done "a kind way, Christ's way."

He warned against arousing unnecessary antagonism of the governments in eastern Europe, and he said this antagonism can be avoided by distributing the Bibles through the Union of Churches of Christ, which prints the Bible in Poland in the native languages, with the guarantee that the Bibles will be printed, bound and distributed to the people, regardless of their creeds and affiliations.

"People need religious knowledge, not fear. Religious fear provokes uprisings against itself and eventual destruction. But religious knowledge creates the fundamental basis of life. . . . One who possesses the Bible has religious knowledge and propagates to others. This is the Spiritual Bread for which Europe cries today. What the Bible can do, nothing else will. Let the Bible be the 'Voice of America,' Dr. Jaroshevich stated in his letter.

Seltzer Praises Newspaper Guild, Asks Cooperation

Columbus, O., June 29 (AP)—American journalism is a house divided against itself, Editor Louis B. Seltzer declared last night.

The Cleveland Press chief said the newspaper business needs the warmth and understanding that existed between management and employees years ago.

Seltzer spoke before delegates to the American Newspaper Guild's 16th annual convention.

"American journalism too long has been a home divided against itself. It is regrettable that the Guild and management still look upon each other as adversaries," Seltzer declared.

"The American Newspaper Guild has fought a gallant fight to improve conditions under which newspaper people work. I think those conditions needed improvement," the editor asserted.

"By so doing," he added, "the Guild has helped stabilize the business to the point where it is attracting more capable young people."

"I, a believer in the Guild, a believer that it will be a constructive agency in the long run, say it is unreasonable to expect, however, that the A.N.G. will accomplish as much as it did the first 16 years."

"I don't suggest," Seltzer added, "that the Guild lessen its fight for the proper care of its members. But I do believe the Guild can afford to be reasonable with its demands in accordance with economic conditions."

The editor said he would have no fear of the future of the newspaper business if both management and employees would re-establish the warmth, understanding, cooperation and devotion which existed in the profession years ago.

Pay Raise Suggested

Honolulu, June 29 (AP)—Raise the pay of C.I.O. stevedores 11 cents an hour. That was the recommendation today of a fact-finding board for ending Hawaii's 60-day longshore strike. A spokesman for the 2,000 stevedores of the International Longshoremen and Warehousemen's Union didn't go for it. Operators of the islands' seven stevedoring firms haven't said whether they do or not. Neither is bound to accept the recommendation. The I.L.W.U. wants a raise of 32 cents. The present scale is $1.40 an hour. That would shove the pay up 13 where it used to be—10 cents under the Pacific coast scale. Employers at first offered 12 cents. They withdrew the offer when Gov. Ingram M. Stainback set up the five-man board.

Shunk, Pa., June 29 (AP)—Robert Turis, 51-year-old Latvian who spent four years in a displaced persons camp, knows today the full meaning of American hospitality. Turis and his family yesterday took possession of an eight-room home and 155-acre farm "loaned" to them by Mr. and Mrs. Leo Manville of White Plains, N. Y. The Manvilles offered to let Turis use the farm in Sullivan county after the Latvian family was brought to this country by the American Friends Service Committee last May 31. The Quaker group also provided furnishing for the farmhouse. In addition to Turis, the family consists of his wife, their son's widow, Milda, and her two children, Aldona, 15, and Valentine, 14.

Fast Pace Stage Bill at Broadway

A fast pace stage bill, headed by the new French ventriloquist Monsieur Richard, plus the new comedy film "The Lucky Stiff" will comprise the special Fourth of July stage and screen show at the Broadway Theatre. The show will be presented Friday and Saturday, July 1 and 2.

"The Lucky Stiff," which recently had its New York city premiere, is the picture produced by radio comedian, Jack Benny. It stars Dorothy Lamour, Brian Donlevy, and academy award winner, Charles Truett. The new film is part of the summer show policy at the Broadway Theatre, which will stress top quality film fare, along with diversified stage entertainment every Friday and Saturday.

Monsieur Richard, who has just come to this country from lengthy Parisian night club and show work, is billed as "The Ventriloquist Extraordinary." He works with a boy dummy named Pegi, and the two carry on a rapid fire, heavily accented conversation during the early portion of the act.

Richard then pretends to be infuriated with the dummy and locks it up in a small trunk on stage. The dummy continues a muffled, hazy flow of conversation from the trunk for an hilarious climax.

A novelty instrumental act will be presented by Rio and Rogers, man and woman, who combined can play over 30 legitimate musical instruments. They add to this group, weird contraptions ranging from lengths of hose, bicycle pumps and washing boards to pre-sent musical melange featuring quick interchange of instruments and contraptions during the playing of popular and semi-classical music.

Additional French flavor will be provided by the Spaulding Trio, two pretty girls and a man, who stage an unusual acrobatic dancing act.

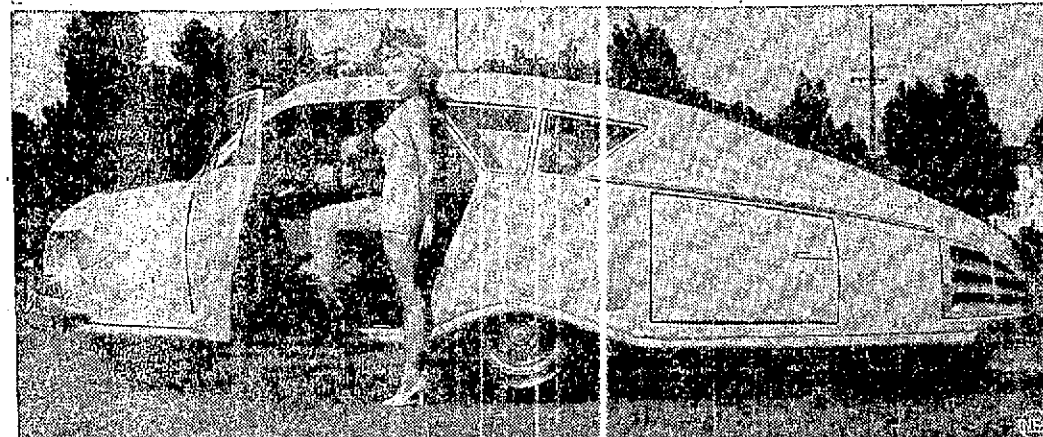

Master of ceremonies for the show will be Marc Ballero, young comedian specializing in comic impressions and take-offs of movie personalities.

Fifth act will be a new team of young dancers, Roy and Emily, whose billing is "Four Feet with the same Motion."

School teachers in New England once were generally paid two hams in exchange for a year's tuition in arithmetic.

SLUNG LOW, SWEET CHARIOT—Marceline Matlock isn't as tall as she looks. She's inspecting the ultra-streamlined Tornado Special straightaway race that's only 41 inches high. Powered by an engine in the rear, the 18-foot-long racer is on display at the Oakland, Calif., International Auto Show. Owner-designer Lee Chapel hopes to hit the 200-mph mark when he races it for the first time on the Mojave Desert July 17.

IS THERE ONE IN YOUR FUTURE?—You're probably trying to figure out the wheels on this bizarre-looking car. But Sherry Stevens, who's stepping into the American-made Gordon car on display at the Oakland, Calif., International Auto Show, says everything is joke. The car has four independently sprung wheels set in a diamond pattern. This gives the teardrop-shaped job a 12-foot turning radius, about half that required by a standard auto. Heralded as the car of the future, the sleek number has only one drawback. Cost to build is $5000, not including labor costs.

SHOKAN

Shokan, June 29—Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ruckert returned last week from Fort Mitchell, near Covington, Ky., where they spent a few days with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Zanis. The local couple had a pleasant trip. They liked the blue grass country but found the weather down there much too warm for comfort.

Walter Brooks, Allgerville resident who died in Kingston Friday evening at the age of 91 years, was a well-known resident of Shokan previous to waterworks days. He was appointed postmaster in the old village in 1898 and for some time thereafter the office was in charge of his son, Frank, who began his law studies here. Mr. Brooks' home was the present Allen place on the old state road and his farm is now known as the Emerich Lukacs place. He was a native of Brown's Station, or Brooks Crossing as the community was known in early railroad days, and was an uncle of William Brooks, now of Ashokan.

The June drought shows no signs of abating, as of Tuesday, and local farmers are getting right after their haying with a view of saving as much as possible of this season's heavy growth of grass. Reservoir tributary brooks have receded to a mere trickle and the trout casualties bid fair to become heavy in some streams. Wells and springs are way down almost to last fall's level. Conditions are unprecedented for this time of the year.

Coming birthdays include those of Amelia Morris and Allen Teywilliger, on June 29 and June 30, respectively. Mrs. Morris in waterworks times resided near the spillway and for many years she has made her home across the mountain road from the Ashokan schoolhouse. Her sons, Frank and Herman, are Board of Water Supply employees of long standing.

Alien, a native of the Town of Rochester and elder son of Jacob and Della (Deesme) Terwilliger, is one of the few local citizens whose residence here dates back to the old village of Shokan. The interesting "Is Folks" column of the Walden Citizen-Herald tells of the "biggest catch made by any fisherman at Wolf Lake this year." It appears that Herm Wolf, Sr. of Orange county landed a four-pound pickerel and while he was doing it, Herm, Jr. was caught in the nape of the neck by two big gang hooks on a plug whipped out by another angler. They cut the plug off and then rushed the lad to a doctor who worked the hooks out of his flesh, and that is why young Herm with his bandaged neck now is rated as the biggest catch of the season. Maybe it is incidents like this one which makes some sportsmen prefer brook fishing to the sit-down kind.

Scythemen were at work along the Ontario Trail through the village last week and they cleaned up the vegetation right up to the fences and ditches. This early mowing job is in pleasing contrast to former years when the rank growth of grass and weeds, with attendant accumulation of papers and bottles, was left to mar the landscape until well on into the late summer.

Mrs. E. Hansen of Brooklyn, formerly of Samsonville, was again at her place adjoining the Baptist Church grounds in the village center.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Phraner and son, Robert, of Hamilton, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Merrihew. The visitors climbed High Point, Olive's grand old southern rampart of the Catskills, and found huckleberries ripening on that famed peak.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

Poor Opening Lead Allows Overtricks

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

Mrs. R. W. Pieper of Markesan, Wis., wife of the editor-publisher of the Markesan Herald, sent me today's hand. In her letter she said the hand came up at one of their "dessert-bridges." Mrs. A. P. Hoxie, wife of a local dentist, sat through three tables of bridge with a blank score before she picked up this one.

Mrs. Pieper thought that East and West should have bid a little more in hearts. Well, if West did bid five hearts, North would bid five spades. With this type of bidding East might think it was worth a six heart sacrifice, and being vulnerable, this might take a heavy loss.

Also, with East and West both bidding hearts and diamonds, it was not likely that North and South would lose a heart trick, and they might not lose more than one diamond trick. So by further bidding, East and West might push North and South into a makeable slam contract. However, as it happened, North and South could be held to five spades, while East and West could make only four hearts.

East led the singleton jack of clubs, which Mrs. Hoxie won with dummy's queen. She took the spade finesse, and now she made seven-odd.

By the process of elimination I think the singleton jack of clubs was not the best opening. Remember that originally West had passed. Therefore, it was not likely that West held two aces. If she held only one ace, it must be the ace of diamonds, due to the diamond bid.

Gotham Arrests Increase

New York (AP)—The New York Police Department report for 1948 listed 315 cases of murder and manslaughter for the year, of which 269 were "disposed of." All in all, the report showed a 4 per cent increase in arrests despite decreases of 13 per cent in felony complaints, 9 per cent in misdemeanor complaints and 5 per cent in juvenile delinquency cases. There were 2,847 cases of felonious assault, 2,733 burglaries and 5,121 grand larceny cases. More than half were disposed of.

In colonial times, pastors were paid in meat grown by Virginia planters.

Pitching Horseshoes

By BILLY ROSE

It looks as if the directors of the Metropolitan Opera House have gone and not done it again.

About a month ago, the Board announced the appointment of a Mr. Rudolf Bing of London as general manager to succeed the retiring and soon-to-be-retired Edward Johnson. And, to explain this surprising selection, it stated that the appointee had served as director of the Darmstadt State Theatre and the Charlottenburg Municipal Opera in Berlin and that in 1934 Joan Christie founder of the Glyndebourne Opera had called on Mr. Bing to organize its first season.

The facts however as nearly as I can ascertain and assert them, are outstandingly otherwise. It's quite true that Bing has been associated with the institutions listed in the press releases—but it's also true that he never served in the capacities mentioned. And, what indicates that the Met's new production boss never produced an opera in his life.

The straightaway of it is that Bing, at the age of 20, got himself a job with a concert agency in Vienna which brought him into contact with the State Opera and many performers. In other words, to call a spade a bad name, he was an agent.

As for his having directed at Darmstadt and Charlottenburg, permit me to quote from a letter I got this morning from a music critic in Berlin: "It was Carl Ebert, now on the faculty of the University of Southern California, who was the director of the State Opera in Darmstadt and the Municipal Opera in Berlin. Bing was never more than a secretary to Ebert, and the most artistic thing he did in this capacity was to schedule rehearsals and write letters dictated by the directors."

As for the English phrase of Rudolf's career, I'd like to quote from the June 6th column of Mildred Norton, music editor of the Los Angeles Daily News: "As is pretty generally known—except around 35th street—Fritz Busch and Carl Ebert founded Glyndebourne as artistic directors under the financial aegis of Joan Christie. Bing's tenure as business manager did not begin until the third season. In recent years, he has been general manager and has represented Glyndebourne in all business arrangements, including the Edinburgh Festival, but in Europe this office carries with it little activity in the selection of either artist or events."

Am I printing this stuff in my column because I'm sore at the Board of Directors for thumbing down my offer last summer to run the Met for a year and guarantee it against loss? Act your age, Esmeralda! My offer was no more than a journalistic peg on which to hang a few thousand critical words, and, to make sure the board wouldn't cross me up and accept the proposal, I inserted a giant joker which made its turn-down as automatic as a Russian veto—I announced that my first step would be to fire the whole board, lock, stock and dinner jackets. And, as you know, a fellow who is seriously interested in getting a job doesn't start off by telling the boss that he's going to chuck him out of the window the day he reports for work.

Do I know Rudolf Bing? Yes, slightly. About a year ago, I talked with him when he was in New York to arrange for the presentation of the Glyndebourne Company at Princeton, and he impressed me as a likable gent, safe as a chaperone and conservative as kippers. Our next meeting was over the telephone in London 10 weeks ago, at which time Bing wanted to know if I'd be interested in bringing the Glyndebourne troupe to Manhattan and presenting it at my theatre. A few doilies on the phone pad showed that this excursion into culture might set me back as much as a hundred grand and, needless to smirk, I declined with thanks.

As I see him, Mr. Bing shapes up as an earnest and hard-working businessman and, if his ledger-domin is restricted to ledgers, he figures to give a good account of himself. But—and this is the nub of this piece—I think the Met has thrown both him and the newspapers a low curve by fancying up its press releases so the public will think its new manager is Gattai Casazza, Mrs. Tishard and Flo Ziegfeld rolled into one. Of course in a way, it really doesn't matter who the general manager is as long as the present board remains in control. And, judging from what happened last season, it's obvious that this amiable group of dilettantes plans to run things the same old way, making the same old mistakes and ending up with the same old decisions.

To be sure, there's always the chance that Bing may surprise us and succeed in escorting the Old Biddy of 39th street into the 20th century—in which event I'll do my quota of cheering. But the odds are against it. As long as a bunch of amateurs can tell him what to do, it's my hunch that Bing won't make much of a bang. ## Storm Kills 25 in Japan

Tokyo, June 29 (AP)—Between 25 and 35 persons were reported killed and 1,000 houses destroyed or damaged today by a heavy rainstorm around Kagoshima city in southeastern Kyushu. Kyodo New Agency said 10 died when rainsoaked cliffs tumbled down on pedestrians. The Kotatsu river was overflowing into the city and its suburbs. Rail traffic was disrupted. The area was hit last week a typhoon. No occupation personnel was reported injured.

Must Make Decision

Brussels, Belgium, June 29 (AP)—Paul Van Zeeland, who has accepted a call to form a new Belgian cabinet, must decide whether he wants a government dominated by labor or conservative business interests. Van Zeeland, a pro-war premier, is a right wing member of the Social Christian party. He accepted a call from the regent, Prince Charles, yesterday, and said he would start consultations with other leaders at once.

Woodstock News

By Peg Hard
New Consignor

EDWARD THATCHER

Woodstock, June 29—Crafts Cooperative announced this week that Edward J. Thatcher, local crafts expert of national prominence, is its newest consignor, displaying tin hurricane lanterns having special non-flammable features, tin candlesticks, and tin and copper ash trays. He is working on colonial type scenes which will arrive at Crafts Cooperative soon.

Thatcher, who was one of the first craftsmen to settle in Woodstock about 30 years ago, is well-known as crafts instructor and tool maker. His work combines the attractive with the practical. "Ned Thatcher can make anything," is frequently heard in this village.

Less than two years ago, he completed an insignia for the armory. This was described at that time in the Kingston Daily Freeman as "a saga of craftsmanship, a giant replica of the collar insignia worn by members of the 156th Field Artillery Battalion, New York National Guard, was erected above the main entrance to the state armory on Manor avenue, in Kingston. The insignia, reproduced in white pine and brass measures six feet by five feet."

Playground Opens

Friday Morning

Woodstock, June 29—The playground at the Recreation Center will open Friday, July 1, for a period of 10 weeks. Walter Van Wageningen, director, will supervise activities between 9:30 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. Young people more than five years of age are invited to make use of the playground. Children under five years of age must be accompanied by an adult. A full program will be announced. New equipment has been added this year including a sandbox, slides and additional swings. There will be special activities for the older groups after 4:30 p. m. daily.

Benefit Game

Woodstock, June 29—A repeat performance of the baseball game between the artists and the writers of Woodstock will be played for the benefit of the Recreation field, Saturday afternoon, July 9. Those planning the event are Miss Wilma Hervey and Sidney Berkowitz.

Pastor Commended

Woodstock, June 29—At a recent meeting of the Town Board of Woodstock, a resolution, proposed by Supervisor Kenneth Wilson and seconded by Justice George Braendly, was unanimously adopted by the board in recognition of the Rev. Harvey I. Todd's 25 years of service in the community, both in his church and civic work.

Maverick Series To Begin Sunday

Woodstock, June 29—The 34th season of the Maverick Sunday concert will open Sunday, July 3, in the Maverick Concert Hall, at 4 p. m. Artists will be Inez Carroll, pianist; Alfio Pignotti, violinist; and Horace Britt, cellist.

The program: Brahms, Trio in C Minor, Opus 101, for piano, violin and cello; Allegro, Energico, Presto non Assai, Andante Grazioso and Allegro Molto.

Cello solos, Vincent D'Indy, Lied, Opus 19; Gabriel Faure, Scilicet; Maurice Ravel, Piece en Forme de Habanera; Saint-Saens, Romance in D Major, Opus 51; Edouard Lalo, Intermezzo.

Exhibitions by Woodstock artists will be hung in the concert hall each week. Austin Mecklen's paintings will be represented this week.

$53 Raised for Local Girl Scout Campaign

Woodstock, June 29—Contributions totaling $53 have been received locally for the Ulster County Girl Scouts fund drive. Because of the numerous other drives during April and May when the county drive was under way, the Woodstock campaign was delayed in getting started.

The Brownies held a picnic meeting last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Harry Ostrander, Willow Leaders Mrs. Laura and Mrs. Shults were in charge and assisted by Mrs. Allen and Mrs. John Pike.

Riley's Purchased By High Woods Man

Woodstock, June 29—Harry Dordick, High Woods, has purchased Riley's, located opposite the village green. The new owner took possession Monday and said he will retain the bus terminal, sale of newspapers and magazines and will include a new feature in the shop.

Dordick, who for many years has carried on a mail order book business for libraries, universities and schools, through a catalogue issued at regular intervals, will have a retail branch of this business in the store. Out of print and hard to find editions also will have a place in the business. Until nine years ago, when he established a permanent residence, Dordick has been a summer resident here since 1927. "I hope to be here for many years to come," he told a reporter. The soda fountain is now open and he expects to be prepared to serve breakfasts and luncheons before the end of this week. The establishment will be open daily from 7 a. m. to midnight.

Anna Cousins' Pupils Gave Recital Sunday

Woodstock, June 29—Pupils of Anna S. Cousins gave an interesting piano recital in the Town Hall, Sunday afternoon.

Taking part in the program were Jean, Cousins, who played Little Polish Dance by Thompson; Jane Mulholland, Evening Song and My First Waltz; Elizabeth Lee, The Sky Pilot and Jocular; Nancy Ostrander, Puppet Show and Now, Is the Hour; Peter Stoutenburgh, Bee and the Clover and Banquet of Roses; James Cousins, Curious Story and Buttons and Bows; Joanne Lee, Come Dance With Me and Laender Blue; Larry Elwyn, Prelude and Star Dust; Mary Tripp, The Waterfall and Cruising Down the River; Ernie Holmzer, Prelude and Missouri Waltz; Gayle Mellett, Staff of the Sea and Gateway Bay; Jean Peacock, Waltz and A Little Bird Told Me; Ruth Ann Boyce, Red Balloons and Forever and Ever. The entire group sang The Bells of Saint Mary's and was accompanied at the piano by Jean Peacock.

Miss Dorothy Varian, Bears-ville, well-known local artist, was admitted to Kingston Hospital on Monday.

Miss Anne Holden, whose mount, Chatterbox was declared Jumper Champion and Reserve Champion in Sunday's horse show, was the week-end guest of Dr. and Mrs. William Hitzig, Bears-ville.

Impressions Given Of Europe During Gallery Evening

Woodstock, June 29—Local artists, Denny Winters, Arthur Zaidenberg, Jack Levine and Carolyn Brandt, whose work has been given considerable recognition, recounted their experiences and impressions during recent visits in Europe, at the first of the Gallery evenings, sponsored by the Woodstock Artists' Association held at the Gallery on Saturday.

The Gallery evenings which are conducted throughout the season are open to the public and in the past have proved to be very popular. Questions from the audience and open discussions are encouraged at the conclusion of the speakers talks.

Arthur Zaidenberg stated that the French people were conscious of a feeling of defeat and give the impressions "that nothing is worth while." Frenchmen have their backs to the wall. Nothing vital is being said or done in this country. There isn't any evidence of a revolt away from Picasso, Matisse, Roualt. He considered rather amazing the fact that this group was working on a church, in view of their political point of view.

Jack Levine stated that he was not interested in the contemporary art in Europe and that he went over to see the "great art." He described his reactions to what he saw in France and England. He considered Paris an inhibiting climate for painters who are trying to work. Arnold Blanch differed with this speaker on his statement that "experimentation is finished and I have a feeling we will swing back to the great art of the past."

Carolyn Brandt did not find Paris to be "the glamorous haven for tourists." She also told her listeners that the French people still feel Americans are a rich and very uncultured. She considered contemporary French sculpture to be far superior to the painting.

Denny Winters was particularly impressed in Paris with the "beauty and use of space." She admired the "linear architecture" there rather than the solid masses seen elsewhere. In Italy, she found all artists looking toward New York as the sponsor for contemporary art. "There are only two galleries in Italy where contemporary and abstract work is shown," it was stated.

Legion Completes Fireworks Plans

Woodstock, June 29—Plans have been completed for the first annual fireworks display to be held by Woodstock Post of the American Legion which will be held on the Bears-ville Plaza, Route 112, in the town of Woodstock, Sunday night July 3. According to the committee, "it will be the biggest fireworks display ever held in Woodstock."

Joe Friedberg, chairman of the general committee, has arranged for a series of surprises which he says will delight the huge audience expected to attend this gala event.

John Wolven, newly elected commander of the Post, and in charge of parking facilities, stated that arrangements have been made to park more than 2,000 cars in the 22 acres of parking lots. The Legionnaires have had a parking rehearsal and they say, there will be no delay in parking or getting off the lots when the show is ended.

Bob Browning, who will be master of ceremonies, and will officiate in the burning of the old worn and torn flags. Henry Grazer and Harry Kutzschbach, co-chairman of the games and prizes committee, have arranged for many entertaining events prior to the shooting off of the fireworks.

At the athletic meet to be held the next day, July 4, on the Woodstock Recreation Field, the committee announced the following events will be held, beginning at 1:30 p. m.: For boys, 10, 60, and 100 yard dashes and a 220 yard spring. For girls, 50 and 60 yard dashes and potato race. All boys and girls in the town of Woodstock are invited to compete for valuable prizes. Woodstock Post of the American Legion will play host to the competitors and non-competitors and give the youngsters free ice cream, soda and cookies.

Village Notes

Woodstock, June 29—About 25 persons were present Saturday afternoon at the Recreation Field when Ed Baumann landed a helicopter there.

The busy social season for the school got under way Saturday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Webster entertained for their daughter, Audrey, and a large number of her friends.

Mr. and Mrs. John McClellan gave a garden party Friday evening for her daughter, Toni, and the 19 other eighth grade graduates, following the commencement exercises in the Town Hall.

Mrs. Richard Thibaut entertained at tea last Friday afternoon.

O Mistress Mine Is Playhouse Hit

Woodstock, June 29—An enthusiastic audience attended the opening night of "O Mistress Mine" Tuesday and the reaction of seasoned playgoers augurs success for the second play of the season at the Woodstock Playhouse for its run through Sunday night. Curtain time is 8:40 p. m.

Stars of the play by Terrence Rattigan are Rex O'Malley who gave a splendid portrayal of the overworked British cabinet minister, and Hilda Stoddard, who was excellent as the charming widow, Olivia Brown, with whom he was in love.

Robert Wyllie, playing the role of the widow's son, was a bit brass for a young Englishman, but otherwise did well as Michael Brown, who frowned on the romance at first but changed his attitude when he fell in love himself.

Applause interrupted several scenes, registering the delight of the audience, and after the show

Charge Tax Man Took Blonde Over

New York, June 29 (AP)—A federal tax collector was under a bribery indictment today, after U. S. Treasury agents eavesdropped on a conference he allegedly held with a blonde model in her apartment.

The collector, James A. Bessel, 49, is accused of demanding and getting a $5,000 bribe from model Marie Powetz after he heard she had not reported a $50,000 profit made on the stock market.

Barney Pfeiffer, a brokerage house clerk and a friend of Bessel, was indicted on a charge of aiding and abetting the bribe. Assistant U. S. Attorney Robert Mitchell said Pfeiffer heard Miss Powetz had failed to report the stock market profit and told Bessel, a deputy collector in the Internal Revenue Department, Bessel wrote Miss Powetz, asking an appointment.

Bessel then arranged to go to her apartment again four days later and collect the $5,000 bribe. Meanwhile, Miss Powetz notified the Treasury Department.

Treasury agents stationed themselves in her closet. Bessel arrived, talked with the model, and left an hour later with the money in a paper bag. The agents arrested him outside the apartment.

Schroeder in Finals

London, June 29 (AP)—Ted Schroeder of La Crescenta, Calif., reached the finals of the Wimbledon tennis championships today by defeating Eric Sturgess of South Africa, 3-6, 7-5, 5-7, 6-1, 6-2, in a bitterly fought match before 17,000 on the center court.

Raise Is Authorized

Albany, N. Y., June 29 (AP)—The Public Service Commission today authorized the Poughkeepsie and Wappinger Falls Railway Co. to raise its token rate by one cent per ride. The utility operates bus lines in Poughkeepsie and adjacent communities.

HEARS SPIRITS

Jerome Greden, 11, is the center of "spiritual manifestations" that are making things lively in Lively Grove, Ill. The boy has heard rappings, seen objects fly across the room and witnessed other unusual events on the Greden farm. A representative of the Catholic Church, investigating, says the "disturbances" are apparently "spirit manifestations." (NBA Telephoto)

Mrs. Hiss Denies Pro-Russian Role

New York, June 29 (AP)—Mrs. Priscilla Hiss today denied she ever typed summaries of State Department documents for transmission to Russian agents.

As she took the witness stand for a second day at the perjury trial of her husband, Alger, Defense Counsel Lloyd Paul Stryker sprang a series of questions about the role she might have played in the alleged transfer of documents.

Whittaker Chambers, self-styled courier for a pre-war Soviet spy ring, charged that she typed copies of papers which Hiss brought home as a State Department official.

The attractive Mrs. Hiss, who has occupied a place at her husband's side throughout the 21-day trial, is one of the few remaining defense witnesses still to testify.

Stichman Protests Sale

New York, June 29 (AP)—The War Assets Administration said today it has scheduled for sale a 117-acre Lido Beach, N. Y., tract on which a 286-family veterans' housing project is located. No date has been set yet for the sale. But State Housing Commissioner Herman T. Stichman has protested the proposed sale under terms of which the new owner is to take possession June 30, 1951. Stichman said he should not be called upon to predict the housing situation two years from now.

Four Are Arrested

New York, June 29 (AP)—Four young men were arrested today after police discovered a small-time arsenal of guns and several hundred rounds of ammunition. The tip-off came from Isaac Schoenfeld, 20, a jewelry salesman, complained that two men had tried to rob him outside his apartment. Police later found a gun in Schoenfeld's apartment and booked him on charges of illegal possession of a weapon.

Held as Suspect

New York, June 29 (AP)—A suspect in the $19,585 armored car robbery of Columbia University campus on June 7 has been detained in Los Angeles, police reported today. Police said the suspect was Arthur Spinney, 30, adding his photograph had been identified as that of one of the pair who held up and robbed a Wells Fargo Express Co. guard and messenger delivering a university payroll. Spinney, the police said, was indicted for the $443,000 robbery at the B. M. Egan Candy Company, Long Island city, Queens, last April 21. He also is wanted for questioning in the slaying of Joseph Morendo, 35, found shot to death in his automobile in Queens last April 3, they said.

New York, June 29 (AP)—Signing of a one-year contract calling for an improved pension plan and a $2 weekly wage increase for 4,500 employees of the Sperry Gyroscope Company, Lake Success, was announced yesterday by Paul Jennings, president of Local 450 of the C.I.O. United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America.

Bus Strike Thursday

New York, June 29 (AP)—Union employees of Green Bus Lines, Inc., serving a large part of Queens county, have voted to strike tomorrow night. The action came shortly after Michael J. Quill, international president of the C.I.O. Transport Workers Union, had threatened to tie up private bus lines in Manhattan, the Bronx, Queens and lower Westchester county at 12:01 a. m. Friday.

Still Predict Victory

Washington, June 29 (AP)—Republicans launched another major assault on President Truman's big housing bill today but administration Democrats confidently held to their forecast of victory by nightfall. The G.O.P. proposal would prevent the government from providing homes for low income families costing more than most people who house themselves can afford.

Reds Take Trucks

Berlin, June 29 (AP)—Russian guards grabbed a west German truck convoy as it neared Berlin yesterday, touching off quick U. S.-British protests to Soviet authorities. The Americans and British claimed the action was a direct violation of the blockade-lifting agreement. An American statement said: "British and American authorities are negotiating with the Soviets in order to obtain release of the trucks and machine parts. Until now nothing is known about the location of the trucks."

Dumm's Citation

For many years a leader of young people active in community affairs, a devout and loyal member of your church; one who has by wise counsel given encouragement to hundreds of boys and girls, now useful citizens out in the world; always ready to lend a helping hand to all worthy projects which might make the community a better place in which to live; unselfish in your efforts to help those who are discouraged and perplexed and who need guidance; a sympathetic understanding in your dealings with parents; interested in developing the highest type of character and leadership.

By the power invested in me, I now award you this honorary diploma from the Kingston High School, and confer upon you the honorary degree "Doctor of Service to Youth" with all rights and privileges appertaining thereto.

In presenting his 18th and final class to Robert H. Herzog, president of the Board of Education, Dumm said, "This class that I am facing tonight is particularly outstanding in my memory not only because it is the most recent class, but because confidentially I have enjoyed this group very much. . . . I am going to remember them for the good times we have had together. . . ."

Without attempting to very certain that this class that is graduating tonight, is going to give a good account of itself in the future. . . . and with this little prophecy that you and the Board of Education and the citizens of Kingston and surrounding communities are going to be well satisfied in the years to come with the achievements of this fine graduating class, I take pleasure and esteem it a great honor to present to you the graduating class of 1949."

In speaking briefly to the class, Herzog used the recent commencement speech of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower at Columbia University in which individual freedom was emphasized.

"The strength of the individual lies in his freedom," Herzog said. "When the individual can think and rule his own personal kingdom, he is a free individual who has become justified as his own master, the state is his servant," he remarked, and with General Eisenhower re-emphasized the words of Patrick Henry, "Give Me Liberty or Give Me Death."

Diplomas were awarded by Herzog and the academic mortar board hats tassels were changed for the graduates by Principal Dumm, Theron Culver, vice principal, Vocational Director Herbert Federath and various members of the board of education, Miss Barbara Snyder and Miss Beatrice Bonestell, juniors, also assisted in giving out the diplomas.

Salutatory

The complete text of Metzger's salutatory follows:

"In my capacity as Salutatorian of the Kingston High School Class of 1949, I wish to extend a most cordial welcome to all assembled here, and especially to you parents who have guided my fellow classmates and me through these past four years of high school life. It is for your benefit—that you may observe the results of your efforts—that this commencement program is presented.

"This day, of course, is a proud and happy one for my classmates and for me. It's one of those times when all classes, all religious faiths, all races, get together for a common cause with no thought of racial or religious differences. . . . But you know, and I know, only too well, that this fellowship is not permanent. Everywhere about us we see prejudice of one kind or another—leading inevitably to untold miser, discontent, and lawlessness.

"In this very imperfect and inconsistent democracy of ours, so often a minority group is made to suffer. Allow me to cite a few instances of the conditions of the Negro in our southern states.

"In order to discourage southern Negroes from voting, the literacy tests given them are made to consist of absolutely ridiculous questions. Such questions as the following have actually appeared on these tests: (1) How many panes of glass are there in the windows of the Capital Building in Washington, D. C.? (2) What is the exact wording of such-and-such an article of the United States Constitution? (3) If  $X = 2y$  and  $3z = 110T$ , while  $y + x = 2z$ , then what does  $T$  equal when  $x$  is one? Do any of you think you could answer even one such question, let alone a whole examination based on them? I doubt it very much. Of course, it is to be understood that the white voters in these same areas are given much easier examinations.

"The conditions in southern Negro schools are equally deplorable. To be specific, in West Memphis, Arkansas, the white students have new, modern schools with the best of facilities, while Negro students crowd into a filthy, one-room shack and into the small improvised Negro church. The Negro school has no inside plumbing, only a small iron stove to supply heat, and an abundance of Arkansas mud always covers the dirt floor. A white student in his school drinks water from a clean, modern, inside fountain; the Negro pupil tries to drink from a leaky, dirty outside water tap, and he wades through mud to get to it.

"It was reported that in 1941 an average of $14.51 was spent on each West Memphis white student, as compared with an average of the stupendous sum of $19.51 per Negro student.

"Such conditions as I have mentioned apply not only to West Memphis, Arkansas, but to hundreds of towns and cities all over the south. Although in the south such conditions are accentuated, they are found to a lesser degree in the north, also. . . . In fact, right in my own community, prejudice has reared its ugly head, as some white neighbors have been getting very much bothered over the fact that Negroes are moving in nearby.

"On the subject of religion we also find a great deal of prejudice. There is no basis, no definite reason for such hatred and friction; after all, if your neighbor wants to worship God in a different way from that in which you believe, why should he not have a perfect right to do so? . . . Don't forget the four chaplains who, during the last war, got everyone off their sinking ship in the Atlantic Ocean, and then, unable to get off themselves, went down with it, arms about each other, and heads joined in mutual prayer. Two of them were Protestants, one a Catholic, and the other a Jew. During the war, Catholic and Protestant and Jew worked side by side. . . . but why should this be true only in time of war?

"When we look back at all that the minority groups, such as the Negroes and Jews, have contributed toward scientific, cultural and economic development in our country, we feel, or should feel, a little ashamed for harboring such selfish, prejudiced ideas. No one needs to be told about the accomplishments of Negroes, like Joe Louis, George Washington Carver or Ralph Bunche, our great U.N. mediator in Palestine; nor of Jews like Albert Einstein, George Garshwin, Al Jolson or Bernard Baruch.

"But what is the answer to the question of how to stamp out prejudice? I certainly don't know. Perhaps there is no one solution to the problem; nor can it be solved overnight. It is something for which we must work long and hard. We must ask ourselves, and answer honestly, the question, 'Just why do I dislike this person, or that person?' If we succeed in answering that, we must go further, by determining whether our reasons are well justified, or

If, on the other hand, they are the product of biased opinion, handed down from generation to generation, as is so often the case.

"One thing is certain: to be 'tolerant' is not enough. Just what does 'tolerate' mean? It means 'to allow' or 'to put up with' something. Should we therefore 'tolerate' the existence of our neighbors, and expect them to like us and respect us for it? Of course not! Our relations must be casual and friendly, and above all, on a basis of complete equality, but certainly should not involve just 'tolerance.'

"I leave you tonight with these thoughts: with international conditions as they are today, our nation must be strong without, but prejudice weakens a nation from within; and a nation which is weak within cannot be strong without.

"It was our own great President Franklin D. Roosevelt who formulated the 'four freedoms'—freedom of speech or expression, freedom to worship God in one's own way, freedom from want, and freedom from fear. Let us live up to this doctrine set forth by him and let us do it by once, and for all eliminating prejudice."

Valedictory

The text of Miss Rose's valedictory was as follows:

"Mr. Dumm, Mr. Laidlaw, members of the Board of Education, Faculty, fellow classmates and friends. In choosing a topic for my Valedictory I listened to the advice of several of my teachers. They told me that I should talk about something in which I am vitally interested and something which would have a real meaning to my classmates going out into life in such uncertain times. Therefore I have chosen 'The Value of the Home' as my topic because I am entering the field of Home Economics and am greatly interested in this line of work, and because many girls in our class soon will be married to one man, and the responsibility of a broken home and families would not be so staggering. Marriage is considered a sacrament by the church, a contract by the state; and yet, many people consider it a game, and housekeeping a chore which must be fitted into one's spare moments.

"Along with the divorce rate, juvenile delinquency has been increasing by leaps and bounds. The all-wise shake their heads and say, 'The younger generation is going to the dogs.' But let's look at it from another point of view. School is out at 3:15. Mary comes home. Mother is working, so just for the companionship, she goes down to the drugstore for a smoke. At 6 o'clock she arrives home to find her mother hastily opening some cans for supper. The atmosphere is tense because Mother has been working late, and consequently supper was not ready for Dad! At supper tense nerves soon flare up and Mother starts at her from the door and Father out the back. Mary is left with the dishes. She intended to do some homework, but it is so lonely in the house that she feels she must take a walk downtown to see what's going on. Perhaps this does not seem so bad, but this loneliness and feeling of insecurity will soon lead Mary to worse companionship and diversions. And there is another angle. Perhaps Mary does go home after school. She did so want to try out for the Senior Play but with Mother working she must rush home to start dinner and make the beds that Mother doesn't have time for in the morning.

"People look at the boys and girls in high school who are outstanding in scholarship, sports, music and other phases of school life and say, 'My, how wonderful! Seldom do they stop and realize how much the home life of these young people has contributed to their success. They don't realize how many more would excel if it weren't for certain bad situations at home. Nothing in the world counts so much as a happy family life which gives with the past four years there have been times, especially this spring, when we have sat in study hall looking out the window and have wished more than anything that we were miles away and there were no such things as school and examinations. However, now we realize, and as the years progress we shall realize more and more, what an experience and opportunity our high school has been—not only the things we have learned, but also the good times we have had and the friends we have made—both teachers and students. So I should like to say thank-you to the Board of Education and the taxpayers, and especially to Mr. Dumm who has been a real friend to all of us these past few years. May the coming classes be as fortunate as we have been in enjoying the privilege of an education in Kingston High School. Thank-you."

"The job of building a home presents a challenge to the young woman of today which cannot be equaled by that of the office, the schoolroom, or the store. Good homes are the foundations for lasting world peace and that fact in itself presents an opportunity to all young women to use their talents and resources to the best of their ability. No mother ever received a promotion nor any reward, intangible as they may be, in terms of satisfaction, and real lasting happiness which come from putting one's best efforts into a cause which is truly worthwhile.

"And now in closing I should dent body, and the Sportsmanship

Key presented annually to the boy who has given the best evidence of true sportsmanship in his daily life as well as on the playing field.

At the awards exercises held Friday (June 24) Levine received a gold certificate for participation in extra-academic activities and letters in baseball, basketball, and track for 1949, during which he was captain of the varsity baseball team and co-captain of the varsity basketball squad.

Entering Anderson in July, 1948, Levine speedily became prominent in campus life. A member of Alpha Beta and Cum Laude, school honor societies, throughout his three years, he was also a letterman in soccer, baseball, basketball and track. In the 1949
Dutchess County Scholastic League
Track Meet, Levine won second place in the half-mile.

Appointed in August, 1946, to the house committee, a student-staff governing body of his dormitory, a year later he was made monitor at North Hall. In his sophomore year he was elected class president, an office to which he was reelected in his junior and senior years. Since 1947 he has been vice president of the Alpha

Colonials Score Twice in Ninth to Shade Bridgeport Bees, 7 to 6

Sostre and Murray Heroes in Big Victory

Paupers turned princes as the Colonials unleashed a spectacular ninth inning rally to edge the league-leading Bridgeport Bees, 7 to 6, before the second largest crowd of the season last night at municipal stadium.

Three young men whose baseball fortunes have wavered this season—Gerald Murray, Frank Granato and Francisco Sostre—pooled their talents to make Kingston's greatest victory of the season a fitting tribute to "Sweetheart Night." More than 650 were in the stands.

Granato delivered the game-winning single with one out in the ninth; Sostre came out of virtual exile to amaze the gathering with a superb relief stint of 4 1/3 innings; while Murray, clutching a homer with one out and then called a left fielding line single to left to chase home the tying run in the ninth.

Bees Take Early Lead.
This was a triumph of majestic proportions when you consider that Julie Laviano's tosser's spotted the powerful Bees a 4-0 lead in the very first inning.

Larry Cauvel, the new south-paw acquisition, suffered through another bad inning that cost him four runs. Arky Arekalian, the chubby left fielder, delivered a single with the bases loaded in the first inning for the big blow.

Sostre Sparkles
Sostre came on in the fifth with the Colonials trailing 5-1 and proceeded to throttle the Bees with only one hit and a run for the remainder of the distance. The one hit, however, gave Bridgeport a 6-5 lead in the ninth before the Colonials chased across their two in rebuttal.

Thomaier launched Kingston's winning rally with a sharp single to right and moved to second on Abreu's sacrifice. When Tellefsen was inserted as a pinch hitter for Hamilton Graham, Manager Byers tried to foil the strategy by bringing in right hander, Erickson, who walked the Colonial hurler after a 3-2 count.

Murray promptly lashed a single to left scoring Thomaier for a 6-6 deadlock and a moment later Granato sent a shot screaming toward the left field corner and Tellefsen romped across the plate with the winning run.

In their half of the ninth, the Bees moved ahead 6-5 when Sherwood walked, moved to third on George Handy's third single of the game and scored after Paul's long fly to center. Sostre pulled himself together and got the dangerous Bires on a pop fly to first base and then fanned Arekalian.

Murray Blasts One
Murray, the batting star of the night, with three RBIs, smashed his homer about 365 feet over the left center field fence behind Ralph Matzer's single to open the sixth inning.

Chris Haughey, the Bridgeport starter, was knocked out of the box in the sixth and Claude Phillips came on, with Erickson finishing up and getting tagged with the defeat.

Granato singled home Jose Abreu with Kingston's first run in the fourth, when Jose singled and Murray walked with two outs. Danny Perlmutter's triple, an ordinary single that bounded away from Arekalian, in left center, and Allan Thomaier's long fly, netted another run in the fifth. The Colonials' fifth run scored in the seventh on a bad throw to the plate by Harry Pauls after the Bees had missed a double play at first.

Thomaier and Granato delivered two hits each for Kingston share batting honors with Murray. Handy, the league's leading batsman, collected three of the eight Bridgeport safeties.

Matzer to Start Game Tonight

Ralph Matzer, Kingston shortstop, who was forced from last night's game against Bridgeport with a strained abdomen muscle in the seventh inning, was reported in good condition this morning and will be at shortstop for tonight's series finale against the league leading Bees at municipal stadium at 8:30.

President Ted Laviano described the injury as not serious. When Matzer left the game, Ed McNamara moved to shortstop, Allan Thomaier to second and Hamilton Graham to right field. Elenchin shifted to left.

Hamilton Graham, who pitched a 3-hit shutout over the Bees last week, will be on the mound for Kingston tonight which is "Service Club Night." Fred Luciano, or Ollie Byers will pitch for Bridgeport.

dict. The Owls pulled the game out of the fire in the top of the twelfth when Vic Gazzola tripped and Roger La France singled to score the winning marker.

At Waterbury Leo Eastman and the Waterbury Timers defeated the Stamford Pioneers 5 to 2. Eastman hit a home run and three singles, scored two runs himself and drove home two more. Dick Callahan, hitting a homer and two doubles, scored both Stamford's tallies.

The question now confronting not only the Red Sox but the other contenders as well is: If the Yankees were tough to beat without DiMaggio, how are they going to be beaten with him?

The runner-up Philadelphia Athletics remained four and a half games behind New York, whipping the Washington Senators, 6-1, behind the seven-hit pitching of Alex Kellner. The rookie lefthander won his 11th game to join the Yankees' Vic Raschi as the top winning pitcher in the majors.

Indians Third
Cleveland moved into third place by a few percentage points over the Red Sox and Detroit, defeating the Tigers, 4-2. Bob Lemon bested Virgil Trucks, helping his own cause with a double to score the run that broke a 2-2 tie.

Johnny Sullivan's double and Gerry Friddy's single gave the St. Louis Browns a 12th winning run that beat the Chicago White Sox 7-6.

Brooklyn retained its one game lead over St. Louis in the National League. The Dodgers defeated the Phils at Philadelphia, 5-3, while the Cards shut out the Chicago Cubs in St. Louis, 5-0. The New York Giants shaded the Boston Braves, 2-1. Pittsburgh and Cincinnati were rained out.

Duke Shider's three-run homer of Robin Roberts in the seventh broke a 2-2 deadlock to give the Dodgers' Preacher Roe his seventh victory.

Portland, Me.—Buddy Hayes, 130, Boston, outpointed Hermie Freeman, 133, Bath, 10.

West Haven, Conn.—Art Sufalotta, 136, Bridgeport, outpointed Herb Dubley, 134, New York, 6.

Yesterdays Stars
(By The Associated Press)
Batting—Joe DiMaggio, Yankees—made an explosive 1949 debut with a single and a two-run homer in his first two times at bat to lead the Yankees to a 5-4 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Pitching—Howie Pollet, Cardinals—scattered eight hits in pitching the St. Louis Cardinals to a 5-0 shutout over the Chicago Cubs.

MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

By The Associated Press

By JOE REICHLER

Two things became clear today. Joe DiMaggio, ailing heel and all, still is the most electrifying figure in baseball and the New York Yankees are definitely the team to beat for the American League flag.

Only yesterday such a statement could not have been made in all sincerity. But events in Boston last night proved even to diehard Red Sox fans that Joltin' Joe is the No. 1 DiMaggio, and the Yankees will take a lot of beating.

It will be a long time before the 36,228 spectators lured out to Fenway Park by the prospect of seeing Joe back in action, will forget DiMaggio's 1949 debut. They saw Joe cover himself with glory as the Yankees defeated their rivals, 5-4. They know now that the Red Sox face a Herculean task to overcome New York's six-game bulge.

Rites Homer
DiMaggio, who missed the Yankees' first 65 games because of an inflamed right heel, wasted no time proving that he had lost none of his greatness. Facing 20-year-old Maurice McDermott in the second inning. For his first official time at bat this year, Joe lined a single to left center. Two outs later, he and Johnny Lindell scored ahead of Hank Bauer's home run to give the Yankees a 2-0 lead.

DiMaggio came up for his second time at bat in the third. "Here were two outs and one on. He rifled a fast pitch into the left field screen for a home run to put his team in front, 5-0. That was the ball game, as the Red Sox came back to knock out Allie Reynolds in the ninth and come within one run of tying it up. It was Joe who caught: Ted Williams' long fly with a runner on third, for the final out of the game.

DiMaggio had six chances in the field and gobbled them up neatly. He was forced to make a long run to get under Williams' fly in the seventh, and appeared to be favoring his heel slightly. He drew one of McDermott's three bases on balls and grounded out in his fourth appearance.

SEES FATHER SHOOT MOTHER

Oakland, Calif., police, answering a shooting call, found William Garland, 28, trying to calm his wide-eyed daughter, Linda, 2. Police say Linda was the only witness as Garland shot his wife, Kathryn, 26. The victim, wounded in the right arm and left leg, is expected to recover. (NEA Telephoto) son later joined the group at the Hawthorne troop bloodhounds were to be brought in today to search but that was called off when the boy was located. Sheriff Smith and the camp management were loud in their praise for the manner in which residents of the area responded to a call for assistance.

Ribosi was one of 22 small boys at the McGuffey Camp, and his residence was given at 471 East 141st Street, Bronx. His parents called today and took the boy home. When found he was uninjured and apparently had not suffered any ill effects from his experience. He was dry and warm and did not bear a scratch or bite and officials believe he sought refuge in a nearby building during the night and started off again early this morning.

Child Reaches U. S.

Fairfield, Calif., June 29 (AP)—Frank Chisari, Brooklyn ex-G.I., will see again this afternoon the Chinese orphan he intends to adopt. Six-year-old Ann, accompanied by New York Daily News Reporter Joe Martin and Photographer Bill Wallace, who brought her all the way back from Formosa to beat an immigration deadline, left the air force base here early today in a military air transport service plane on the last leg of the journey. The C-54 transport will stop briefly in Omaha, Neb., and hop right on to New York. The flight plan called for reaching New York about 4 p. m. (EST). Chisari found Ann in Kunming, China, late in the war. Now Chisari and his wife, who have two other children, want to adopt Ann. She has been in an orphanage in Formosa.

Merchants Decide On Daytime Affair

Members of the Kingston Uptown Merchants' Association at a meeting held this morning decided rather than hold an evening block party in observance of the completion of the new pavilion on Wall street, the festivities should take the form of a daytime festival.

The details for the festivities will be worked out at a committee meeting to be held Thursday morning by the committee in charge.

That committee is headed by Albert C. Flanagan, chairman; with Jesse Schlesinger, Byron C. Latham,
Charles Hoppe, Gordon Lettson and Ruth Guido as members.

The plan to have a daytime festival was arrived at after a full discussion of the matter by the merchants today at a meeting held in the Newberry store, President
Matthew Morgan said.

Details for the celebration in which all of the merchants of the uptown shopping area will be invited to participate, will be worked out Thursday. Present plans call for awarding of prizes by the stores uptown and other features which will be announced later as the program is completed. The celebration has tentatively been set for Wednesday, July 13.

President Morgan announced that dues in the Association may be paid to Treasurer Stuart Randall at the established rate of $5 per year for a membership.

Only 40 per cent of Americans lived in cities and towns in 1900.

The population of the world in 1900 is estimated at $19,000,000.
